Order file histories

- US and other PTO file histories
- Special PTO documents on request

Run alert for legal status

Patlegal Monitor is an easy-to-use alerting service which automatically notifies users of any changes made in patent families, legal status and file histories from various patent offices. Types of actions monitored include legal actions related to published patent applications and granted patents during their prosecution and opposition.

Work Your Patents

- I have invented a better mouse trap; how can I be sure I am not duplicating another patent?
- I have a couple of hours to scan nearly 1,000 full-text patents. I'm desperate. How can you help me?
- Can you provide names of top experts in wind turbines blades?
- How can I find emerging competitors in the field of biometric identification?
- Much of the research in my area is done in non-English-speaking countries. Can you provide English-language versions of most foreign patents?
- How can I share, manage and search information on the company portfolio with Daniel in Denmark and Kitty in Kuala Lumpur?
- How can I find the top 5 applicants on pool cleaners in Australia?
- How can I stay on top on the latest developments of nanotechnologies in life sciences?

Search and Watch

FamPat:

The screenshot shows a patent document viewer interface. On the left, there is a table of patent numbers and their dates. The main area displays technical drawings (FIG. 1, FIG. 2, FIG. 3, FIG. 4, FIG. 5, FIG. 6, FIG. 7, FIG. 8, FIG. 9, FIG. 10, FIG. 11) and a detailed description of the invention. The text describes a system for snow chains on vehicles, including details about the chain structure, its connection to the tire, and the use of a spreader rope and rope connectors. The interface includes a search bar, navigation buttons, and a 'Filter: none' option at the bottom right.

The screenshot shows the 'Highlight' dialog box in the Questel Orbit Patent Examiner software. It features a list of terms to be highlighted in the patent text, with checkboxes for each term. The terms include 'invention', 'advantages', 'drawbacks', 'independent claims', 'full text', 'citations', and 'legal status'. The dialog also includes 'OK', 'Cancel', and 'Help' buttons.

Analyze and scan patents

Examine individual patents

- Display text and images side-by-side
- View drawings in mosaic format
- Highlight selected terms using up to 6 colors

Examine a set of patents

- Visualize and analyze citation relationships
- Export to Excel with images
- Rank your results

The screenshot shows the main interface of the Questel Orbit Patent Examiner software. It displays a 'My portfolio' section with a tree view of patent categories like 'Competitor', 'New product', 'Brass', 'Keyboard', 'Piano', 'Clavinet', 'Rhodes', 'Electric piano', 'Synthe', 'String', 'Violin', 'Cello', and 'Contrabass'. The main area shows a 'Keyboard' directory description with a table of patents. The table is sorted by relevance, showing the top 7 results. Each row includes a patent number, date, title, assignee, and ranking. The interface also includes a search bar, navigation buttons, and a 'Filter: none' option at the bottom right.

Archive

Build, share, organize portfolios

- Create and name workfiles
- Feed workfiles with search results and alerts
- Copy and move records between workfiles
- Work in a secure environment with data encryption (SSL)
- Sort and filter records according to user-controlled criteria
- Search archived records and annotations
- Monitor access rights
- Create, monitor, search user-defined classifications

The screenshot shows the 'Export' dialog box in the Questel Orbit Patent Examiner software. It allows users to export patent data to various file formats (PDF, HTML, XML, etc.) and includes options for page breaks and zipping the file. The dialog includes 'OK', 'Cancel', and 'Help' buttons.

The screenshot shows the 'Create a new attachment' dialog box in the Questel Orbit Patent Examiner software. It prompts the user to enter the path of the file on their computer and provides a description field. The dialog includes 'OK' and 'Cancel' buttons.

Report and share

Leverage collective knowledge

- Rate and annotate each document
- Share portfolio with colleagues and clients
- Build and share search reports
- Update notifications by email
- Attach records to a folder and search them
- Print / export reports with dynamic links to original patents
